

A farmer and a farm hand from Dumfries are fearing for the safety of their livestock after seeing what they believed to be a wolf. The farmer fired a shotgun into the air to protect the cattle while the farm hand called the police. The wolf was frightened away by the sound of the firing shotgun. The farmer who fired his shotgun is not afraid to kill the animal if it is seen again. The police are unsure if the animal was indeed a wolf.

